The Welcome Table Plans Second Breakfast for Those in Need—Volunteers/Donations Needed

The Welcome Table Team (formerly known as The Sunday Dinner Team) will hold another breakfast for those suffering from food insecurities on Saturday, Dec. 3, from 8:30-10:30 am in Threatt Hall.

The last breakfast, held in September was a huge success and the team looks forward to holding this event for our patrons. The menu will include scrambled eggs, bacon, grits, pancakes with syrup, orange juice, and coffee. Heyward Street Methodist Church will be donating the orange juice, but the team is in need of other donations such as creamers for the coffee, packets of sugar and sweetener, and butter patties. Cash donations are always greatly appreciated.

The team will also be handing out coats, gloves, socks, jackets, and blankets, as well as hygiene items, so please remember to bring in your donations no later than Dec. 2. Please drop them off in the designated area in our Mission Garden in the back hallway.

Volunteers are needed for cooking/prepping, greeting, serving, plating, and clean up. You may sign up online through Realm by scanning the QR code on the ad, or by emailing Jane Peterson at jane@wsmethodist.org with your preferred volunteer position. Cooking prep volunteers should arrive no later than 7:30 am; other may arrive by 8:00 am and be ready to work by 8:30 am when we open to our patrons.

Mary Lide, Cindy Wauind, and others help in the kitchen during the September Welcome Table Breakfast.

Stewardship Bible Study Studies Three Simple Rules: A Wesleyan Way of Living

For the past 3 weeks, small groups have gathered every Wednesday to discuss the idea that God calls us to be good stewards in God's world. A group of 7 individuals met Wednesday mornings on-site at the church with Christine Taylor and Robbie Douglas, and 6 individuals met with Christine on Wednesday evenings through Zoom. Together, the groups walked through the Rueben P. Job's Three Simple Rules: A Wesleyan Way of Living and the Epistle of James.

The first week, the groups spent time learning about the history of stewardship in the Bible, practices that have been kept for thousands of years by God's people. While they learned, the on-site group shared coffee and donuts, while they helped prepare the WSUMC mailer envelopes which would disperse the Ministry Menu and pledge cards. Robbie Douglas commented, "I enjoyed getting to know the other classmates even better than I knew them before. It gave me a deeper and better perspective on the material by hearing everyone else's thoughts."

The second week, these small groups dove into some hard self-reflection. Job's book isn't hard to understand, but it is certainly hard to put into action. This author calls Christians to a radical and countercultural way of living. This week, the group answered the following questions: How have I been doing good? How have I been doing harm? What gifts has God entrusted to me? What are my goals for growth? Group members shared aloud as they felt comfortable, some chose to journal their answers instead.

Robbie noted, "I have worked with and 'lived' Stewardship for many years, if not all of my life, but I have never really studied or thought very much about how or if I routinely practice living out my faith. I've certainly never thought of it in terms of the Three Simple Rules. I try to live those 'rules' but never really understood how they related to Stewardship. I felt like this study would give me a different perspective and hopefully a deeper understanding and it did."

The third week, the group discussed spiritual practices. In order to be sustained, we Christians must attend to our own spiritual needs; we need to create space for God to fill our cup. Spiritual practices are imperative for staying in love with God. After our three-week series, Shannon Berry reflected, "I feel more connected to the church than ever before. These Wednesday night sessions have been helpful for me." These groups spent time in prayer, and individuals shared how they each attend to their relationship with God. They made goals for the next year, for how they will do no harm, do good, and stay in love with God.

Advent Small Groups Starting Soon

Two Advent Small Groups will be held on Wednesdays during Advent. Rev. Alston Lippert will lead a small group based on a study of sermons and the theme words for Advent. You will have two opportunities to participate in this Small Group:

- 11:00 am In-Person in the John Harper Classroom
- 7:00 pm on Zoom

The Small Group begins on Wednesday, Nov. 30, and will run through Dec. 21. To participate, please either email Rev. Alston at alflippert@umcsc.org or sign up in Realm.

Ann Jessup will start a new Online Small Group on Wednesday, Nov. 30 at 7:00 pm on Zoom. The study will focus on the book The Angels of Christmas by Susan Robb. This study runs through Dec. 21. To sign up to participate, email Ann at jessup.ann@gmail.com.

Parents' Night Out

Giggles could be heard throughout the church on Friday, November 14, as children gathered for Parents' Night Out. 11 kids and 1 baby attended this round of PNO programming, which gives our WSUMC parents a night to go on a date, attend to a hobby, or order takeout and watch that movie they've been waiting for. One of the moms commented this round that she was using the time to work on a sewing project!

This month's Parents' Night Out programming centered around thankfulness. Kids were greeted by Rev. Becky, and then fed dinner that was provided by Vickie and Lisa Voegeli, Mary Lide, and Susan Brown. As kids ate their mac & cheese, chicken tenders, and fruit, they told adult volunteers about their school-day learning. When they finished dinner, cards were colored for some homebound members at WSUMC. Kids then gathered around for a Bible story with Christine Taylor, to learn about Mary and Elizabeth singing the Magnificat, two women who sing to God because they are thankful.

The 11 boys and girls were then separated into two groups, which rotated between a craft and a game station. At the craft station, they cut out pictures from magazines, pasting them on construction paper to make a "Thankful Collage" with Eleanore Langley, Beth Mathews, and Shelley Stafford in the 1st and 2nd-grade classroom. Many of the kids' crafts included pictures of pets, houses, food, warm coats, and even a couple of cut-outs of Santa Claus. Eleanore commented, "I really enjoyed reconnecting with children that I used to help teach when they were 2 and 3 years old. It's wonderful to see how our young people are growing up and to meet new friends."

At the games station, kids played Thanksgiving Bingo with Ann and Harvey Jessup, competing for prizes of small toys and temporary tattoos in the 3rd and 4th-grade classroom. The game had pictures of Thanksgiving-related items in each square, and our Bingo-caller named items like "Dinner plate! Cornucopia! Pumpkin pie!" When Harvey called out, "Corn!" the girls surprised us, and all started singing a silly song that they knew about corn. Ann said, "Learning silly songs from the children and watching them lovingly cheer one another along in games," was her favorite part of the evening.

After rotating through these stations, groups reconvened with Christine to hear The Berenstain Bears' Thanksgiving Blessings by Jan Berenstain in another Sunday School classroom. Each kid got a copy of the story to take home at the night's end. Ann noted, "[Parents' Night Out] is a great way to get to know WSUMC's children better and support our young families. The children are full of energy and sunshine and they give us hope for the future of the church." After this night with kids, centered around thankfulness, we at WSUMC are especially thankful for our wonderful volunteers who make this ministry possible!

Young Adult "Friends' Thanksgiving"

The Wesley Room was filled with young folks on November 17th, as Washington Street held a "Friends' Thanksgiving" dinner. Adults in their 20s and 30s gathered around the table, to share a meal and get to know one another. Most of the group's participants brought a side dish or dessert, and WSUMC staff provided fried chicken, brownies, and a few extra side dishes to share. These young folks were all invited to eat dinner in the Wesley Room, and many made extra plates to take home with the leftovers. A devotion was read, Thanksgiving Trivia was played, laughter was abundant.

Some of the group, like Katherine and John Epting, grew up in this church and have recently transitioned into adulthood. Some of the group are new to the Columbia area, like Billy Joe Patton, a USC law student. Childcare was provided, as four of our young adults brought their young children along! Nursery attendants rotated, so all these young people could participate in the food and fellowship. Keep an eye out for more young adult events in the near future, there are more to come!

Christmas with Epworth

Time is almost up to purchase a gift for an Epworth child for Christmas. The deadline to drop off your gift is December 7!

Remember...Do NOT wrap your gift. All gifts should be unwrapped and unbagged.

You may drop off your item at the church in the Holroyd Classroom, 9am-4pm during the week, and before or after the service on Sunday.

Becoming a Better Me in 2023

A Special presentation by Dr. Anthony Hodge

As a new year approaches, what will be different for us? How will we seek to become different? Instead of looking elsewhere, try looking inwardly and earnestly seek to be intentional about becoming a better person in the new year!

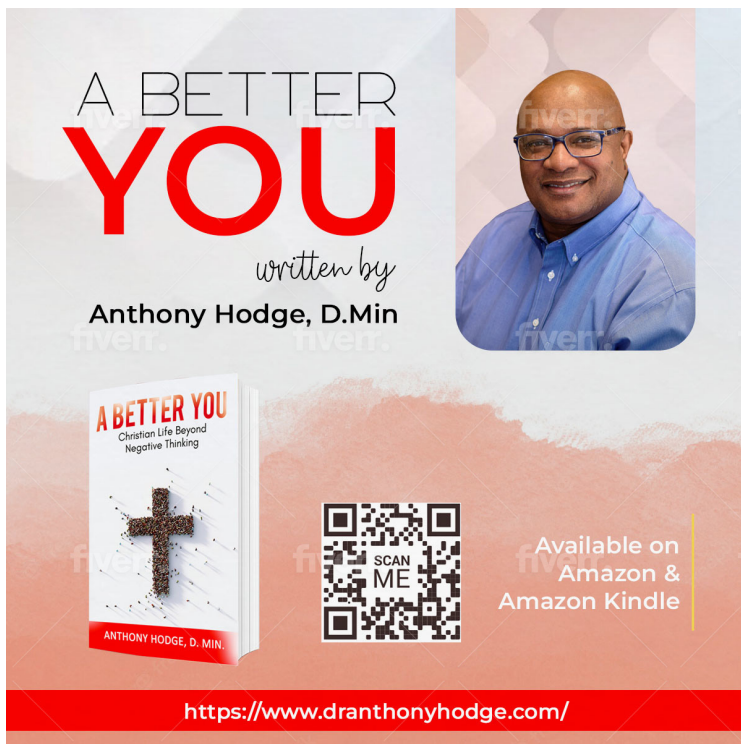

Dr. Anthony Hodge has written a practical book that anyone can work through to help anyone evolve into a better version of one's self.

On Saturday, December 10, 2022 from 10:00 a.m. to noon, at Washington Street UMC, 1401 Washington Street, Columbia, SC 29201, Dr. Hodge will be sharing ways individuals can aspire to become better in 2023.

During Dr. Hodge's presentation, participants will be exposed to a process designed to assist persons in a 90-day transformational process. He will also share an outline for a four module book study that can be used for individual and small group gatherings.

Dr. Hodge looks forward to engaging participants for this upcoming presentation "A Better Me in 2023."

Dr. Hodge is an ordained elder in the SC Conference of the United Methodist Church and is currently serving as the District Superintendent of the Rock Hill district.

It's Beginning to Look Like Christmas at Washington Street

Out with the old "Thankful Tree" and in with the Christmas Tree at Washington Street. Sam Waldrep and all of his elves have been working hard to deck the halls for the Advent and Christmas Seasons.

This year's Thankful Tree was full of "thanks" from Washington Streeters. Mostly we saw folks being thankful for family and life chances, and thankful thoughts about Washington Street and church family.

We are also very "thankful" for all of the elves helping make our church beautiful during this glorious seasons of Advent and Christmas. Those elves include: Kathy Wright, Martha Boynton, Wendy Clark, Mary Lide, Marcia Lane, Jean Kanes, Dianna Westerkam, Beverly McClanahan, Lynn Shirley, Alan Jon Zupan, Ellen Carruth, Pam Jenkins, Susan Brown, Sam Waldrep, Beth Matthews, Mary Ann Young, Virginia Vaughan, Sally Mings, Janet Cotter, and Jerry Sumpter.

Also, a special thanks to those who purchased poinsettias and to Susan Helfefinger and Kathy Wright for keeping them watered.

Sunday School Updates

- The Aldersgate Class: The class is studying a series based on a message from Max Lucado, Because of Bethlehem: Love is Born, Hope is Here, which they will study to the end of this year. We welcome anyone who would like to join us in a short video and lively discussion. Our class meets in the Aldersgate Class at 10:00 am with coffee and a pastry. If you have any questions, please call David A. Anderson at 803-318-8821 or email him at DAAnderson@richardsonplowden.com.
- The Dawsey Class: This Sunday, November 27, we will begin our new book, The First Christmas: What the Gospels Really Teach About Jesus's Birth by Marcus J. Borg and John Dominic Crossan. Tom Wall will teach Chapter 1, Stories of the First Christmas. Next Sunday, December 4, Carl Evans, will lead a discussion of Chapter 2, Parables as Overtures. The class meets in the Dawsey Classroom on the 2nd floor. Class members who desire to join from home use FreeConferenceCall. Class members should call in between 9:50 and 10:00 am. The call-in number is (701) 802-5115. The access code is 7252934. For more information about the class, contact the class president Mary Slade at maryslade4@gmail.com.
- The Grace Class: The video series Embodying Advent from The Work of The People website will be used for four of the next five Sundays (through Christmas Day) as the basis of our time together. We will join a church-wide adult Sunday school potluck brunch on the 18th. On Nov. 27, the class will study "Birthing and/or Embodying Hope" (16 minute video) <https://www.theworkofthepeople.com/embodying-advent-birthing>. On Dec. 4, we will look at "Embodying Faith" (9.5 minute video). Melanie Dobson will lead the class. Join in person or contact Jim Lane at jlanc@columbiasc.edu for the Zoom link to gather Sunday mornings at 9:45 am for fellowship and at 10:00 am for spiritual reflection.
- The Joy Class: The lessons are being led by various members and focused on how we can use this season to further our faith journey. Everyone is welcome to join us as we learn together. If you are interested, please contact Lee Haynes at lelandhaynesjr@gmail.com or Sylvia Stevens at sylviasaundersstevens@gmail.com for more information.
- The Open Door Class: The class is doing a study based on the video "The Bible Project." The subject is the character of God. Please note that there will be no class on Dec. 25, or Jan. 1. Visitors are always welcome! The class meets both in-person and via Zoom each week. For Zoom link information, contact Ann Jessup at jessup.ann@gmail.com.
- The Paul Harmon Class: We will not meet on November 27. On December 4, Dr. Charles Bryan and Randy Elswick will lead our discussion of Chapter 4 in Parables from the Back Side by Kalas. All are welcome. If you have questions, please contact Suzanne Joye at suzjoye@gmail.com. All are welcome. If you have questions, please contact Suzanne Joye at sjoye@sc.rr.com.
- The John Harper Class: The class discusses lessons from Adult Bible Studies published by Cokesbury. In November, the theme is "Faithful Conversions." Lessons focus on "Showing Respect for Other Faith Traditions" from Acts, "Working for Abiding Peace" from Kings, "Lessons from Other Faith Traditions" from Exodus and "Sensitivity Training" from Romans. For more information, contact Tracy Powers at tjpowers65@gmail.com or meet with us in the classroom on the first floor by the elevator.
- The WSUMC Youth Class: The youth are continuing reading and analyzing the book Walk With Jesus by Henri Nouwen. We will be going through "Stations of the Cross" to discover how Jesus lived his life and remained hopeful through His suffering. The class will be led by Beth Robinson (bethcaskey@gmail.com).

Requiem at Shandon Methodist

On All Saints Sunday, the WSUMC choir participated in a joint presentation of Gabriel Fauré's Requiem at Shandon Methodist Church. The other participating choirs hailed from Shandon UMC, Trenholm Road UMC, Cayce UMC, and Salem Street UMC. The choirs were led by Nicholas Todd Shumate, director of music at Washington Street. Debbie Bauer assisted at the organ. The program was presented in memory of those who have passed since the last All Saints Day. Photos courtesy of Forever Photography.

WSUMC Choir members Bob Evans, Harvey Jessup and Lee Smith take part in Requiem.
